ARTEMUS WARDE'S ACCOUNT

OF HIS COURTSHIP.

"Twas a calm still night in June.

All nature was hushed and nary zeller disturbed the screen silens. I sat with Betsy Jane on the fence of her father's pasture. We'd been romping threw the woods, kull'n flowers and driving the wood-chuck from his Nativ Lair (so to speak) with long sticks. Wall, we sat there on the fence, a swinging to and fro, blushing as red as Baldwinville skool horse when it was first painted, and looking very simple I make no doubt. My left arm was occupied in ballansin myself on the fence, while my right was wounded lovingly round her waist. "Betsy, you're a gazelle," I thought the air was putty fine. It evidently didn't fetch her, for she up and sed, "You're a sheep!" Sed I, "Betsy, I think very muchly of you!" "I don't b'lieve a word you say—so there now, can!" with which observation she latched away from me. "I wish there was windows to my sole," sed I, "so that you could see some of my feelins. There's fire enuff in here," sed I, striking my buzzum with my fist, "to bile all the corn beef and turnips in the neighborhood." She bowed her head down and comment chawin the strings of her sun bonnet. "Ah, could you know the sleepis nites I worry threw on your account, how vittles has seized to be attraction to me, and how my limbs has shrunk up, you wouldn't dowt me. Gase on this wastin form and these 'ere sunken cheeks." I should have commented on in this strane probly for some time, but I unfortunately lost my ballunse and fell over into the pasture smash, tarrin my close and severely damagin myself generally. Betsy Jane spang to my assistance in double quick time and dragged me 4th. Then, drawin herself up to her full hite, she sed, "I won't listen to your noncents no longer. Jes say rite strate out what you're drivin at. If you mean gettin hitched, I'm in!" I considered that air enuff for all practical purposes, and we proceeded to the person's and was made that very nite.

Guppy says that although "figures don't lie," he was horribly deceived in his wife's figure.

A PATERNAL REBUKE.

"My son, you're getting on in age.

Why do you longer tarry?

Why not some damsel fair engage, And settle down and marry?"

"Ah, there's the rub, my dear papa— I've settled down so very far, I can't find one to wed me."

A MISTAKE. SO DOUBT.—General Butler was taking tea at the house of a lady friend in Washington, the other day. The General seemed to look as though something was lacking, and the following dialogue took place:—

Hostess—"Can it be possible, General, you have no spoon?" Butler, rising indignantly, and holding out both hands—"No, madam; if you don't believe it, you can search me."

THE CODFISH.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

The codfish iz the child ov oshun. This accounts for their being so salt.

They are caught with a hook and line, and bite like a steel trap, and hang on like a poor relation.

They are good eating for a wet day; they are better than an umbrella to keep a man dry.

Dried codfish iz one ov the luxuries of life, but codfish three times a day would weaken my confidence in them.

Codfish never venture in fresh water, they would spile if they did.

I never have been codfishing myself, but think I should like it better than fishing for frogs.

I think I could catch frogs well enuff, but I should insist upon their taking themselves off for a the hook.

I had rather take a boss bumble bee in mi hand than a live frog, not because I am afraid the frog would bite, but I am afraid ov their kicking.

Sum people ain't afraid to take enything with their hands, that they kan reach, not even an eel, but if I should ever git caught by an eel, if I couldn't settle with him, right off, by giving him the hook and line, I would throw the pole into the bargain and put for home.

The codfish iz sed to be an aristokrat, and to keep aloof from the other fish of his size in the sea, and claims to be a relation of the whales, but this looks to me rather fishy.

I have noticed that the codfish always haz a stiff upper lip, but I think this iz more owing tew the bone that iz in him than it iz tew his blood.

THE MACKREL.

The mackrel iz a game fish. They ought tew be well educated, for they are always in schools.

They are very easy to bite, and are caught with a piece of old red flannel petycoated onto a hook.

They ain't the only kind ov fish that are caught by the same kind of bait.

Mackrel inhabit the sea, but those which inhabit the grocery always taste to me az though they had been born and fatted on salt.

They want a good deal ov freshening before they are eaten, and want a good deal of freshening afterward.

If I can hav plenty of mackrel for breakfast, I can generally make the other two meals out ov cold water.

Mackrel are considered by menny folks the best fish that swims, and are called "the salt of the earth."

RAISING STOCK.

A travelling gentleman passing a farm saw a boy at work in a cornfield by the roadside, and being of an enquiring turn of mind, he stopped his horse and thus addressed the youth:

"My son, whose farm is this?"

"Dad's," was the laconic reply.

"Does your father raise any stock?"

"Yes, lots uv 'em."

"What kind?" continued the stranger.

"Cornstocks, mostly," was the reply, as he proceeded to "hoe" a hill of the article.

TAKING HIS LITTLE ALL.—There was a story during the war, of one of Sherman's bummers who met a Southern country gentleman in the course of one of his excursions, and stopped him. "Come out from 'nder that hat," exclaimed the bummer, "I see you there." The unlucky victim delivered his hat. "Now come out of them boots," added the bummer, and his orders being obeyed, "crawl out of that coat," said he, "and be quick about it." Having robbed the man of his shirt, his trousers and a finger-ring, the bummer was riding off, when his victim stopped him. "Look here, mister," said he, "you forgot something;" and he pulled a quid of tobacco out of his mouth and handed it to him saying—"You'd be ruined if you left this."

A boy, five years of age, having stolen a can of milk, his mother took him to task, with moral suasion, and wound up her discourse by exclaiming: "What in the world were you going to do with the milk, anyhow?"

"I was going to steal a little dog to drink it," was the crushing reply.

"Sal, what time do your folks dine?" "Soon as you goes, that's missus's orders."

From the Sentinel. UNIVERSITY AND THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS, No. 2.

Any slight inaccuracy in the following statement will not materially affect the argument. Put the services of the thoroughly educated man at $1,500 per annum, and of the uneducated, or day laborer, at $250. The value to the State, in dollars and cents, of the educated man exceeds that of the uneducated by $1,250 per annum. The education of one hundred men, so thoroughly as to enable them to earn upon an average $1,500, increases the annual monetary interest of the State $125,000. Add to this the superior intelligence, and the moral power and worth of such a class of citizens, and we have some conception of the profit accruing to the State from the liberal education of its young men.

There is no money more freely paid, and none more judiciously invested than that which is expended for purposes of education. Each man who makes his home in Wake County, earning and receiving a salary, or enjoying an income of $1,500, adds so much to the pecuniary interest of the country. When such person takes the place of the uneducated, the exchange is worth to the country $1,250 annually. Introduce one hundred educated, enterprising men into the city of Raleigh, and their value is at once felt. During the present year, one thousand day laborers in Wake, receiving $250 each, become the means of circulating $250,000. The same number of educated men receiving $1,500 each would have circulated $1,500,000; or more money by one and a quarter millions of dollars. That is, one thousand educated men are worth to their country yearly one and a quarter million of dollars more than the same number of uneducated day laborers. It is surprising that money should be comparatively scarce in that State, where a considerable proportion of the people are uneducated? To what section of our country do we look for wealth—its banks and brokers, and moneyed men? Why the great disparity in the thrift and enterprise of sister States? The Public Schools and Colleges, and Universities, Cornell and Harvard and Yale, of New York and the New England States, are annually educating their thousands. Education is capital, its earnings are the income.

One who receives a salary of $1,500 is as rich, without stock or bonds or land, as another who enjoys an income from $25,000 to $60,000 per cent. He is richer, for he has not only $1,500 dollars, but the additional wealth of intelligence. Where is the liberally educated man who would consent to exchange his education for even twenty-five thousand dollars? Were it not better then that the father give his five sons a thorough education, though it cost him all his hard earnings, than bequeath them an estate of one hundred thousand dollars? He has thus, not only left them an ample support, but has fitted them for positions of usefulness and honor, for rank in society, for a successful competition with all around them, for distinction among men. The heritage of $25,000 in houses or notes of stock, may disappear in the fluctuations of business, by the ravages of war, or under the torch of the incendiary. Lands and notes and stock are taxable—from all such the capital of an education is exempt. The liberal education of children is a parental duty—it is true State policy to provide the means.—The wealth of nations is not told by boulders and eagles and dollars, but it is found in the gems of thought, the jewels of mind, and the inestimable treasures of patriotism and virtue and religion, that shine out and adorn the character of the people. Our well trained and properly educated young men must be the pride of our country, the pillars upon which securely repose our liberties, the safeguard of the Republic.

New York Fashions.

METROPOLITAN FURNISHING ROOMS.
495 BROADWAY, OCTOBER, 1869.
Ladies are anxiously asking for indications of Winter styles: asking if flounces will be still worn, if street suits will be longer or shorter, bonnets smaller or larger, heels higher, heels higher or lower, waists rounded or peaked, sleeves coat shaped or bouffante.

To these and similar weighty queries we have now got definite answers. Flounces will be still worn but will not be so narrow or so numerous.—Many of the most elegant models just received from Paris have but one flounce on the suit, and that is deep and a la Russe—that is pleated with pleats all falling one way. This is heavy but appropriate. The tunic may either be trimmed with a narrow flounce a la Russe or with a heavy ornamental fringe. When plaid is worn—as it will be very extensively, the trimming should be shawl fringe of the plaid. Street suits should be made to clear the ground freely. Nothing looks worse than to see the bottom of a suit, evidently designed for short, dragging on the pavement. A skirt must be either a round or train, there is no half way admissible. Ladies who would combine the merits of both must wear trains attached and loop them or let them flow at their option.

These trains, which can be slipped on or off as easily as aprons, impart a very stylish air to the wearer. It is essential that the shape be good—that is that the sides be so sloped as to bring it in harmony with the bottom of the round skirt—when flowing it must look of a piece with the round skirt, and to favor this impression the trimming of the round skirt on train, must always be the same only narrower on the train. The pompadour or square waist is going out, the heart shaped neck is more affected, many of our model dresses are quite high in the neck as they ought to be for winter. A new style of collar called the "East Indian" accompanies the high-necked dinner dresses; it is simply a deep yoke of net or muslin foundation completely covered with insertion and lace, and edged with a deep fall of lace; it opens in the back, and is fastened with a couple of small buttons. Velvet or satin ribbon of a suitable color may be introduced into these stylish collars. They are designed to be so thick that the dress will not show through them. Muslin or white silk therefore forms a better foundation than net. A shell shaped bow or rather tab is added, and may be worn or not, but we cannot think it an improvement. Crescent shaped ornaments go well with this style of collar if they otherwise become the wearer. In ball and party dress there is a revival of the old style of peaked waists laced behind with silk; waists perfectly plain with the exception of lace laid on flat, the whole design being to show the shape as much as possible. Dresses were never before so simple, so severe in their outline as they are this Fall—and for that reason never so trying when badly fitted or clumsily made, nor so satisfactory to wearer or beholder as when fitted perfectly and smoothly and beautifully made. Many ladies are so particular about the "smoothness" of their dresses when on that they will only have them lined with silk, and stitched on the Grover & Baker Machine, the seam of which is at once strong enough and elastic the fastidious belles who will have tight dresses, and yet who insist on even the tightest having a sense of "give" to it. They know from experience that the exercise of the ball room makes the heart beat fast, and the chest expand, so they go prepared against accidents. The Maria Theresa sleeve will still be worn on party dresses, but on walking suits the coat sleeve, only lighter than before. Epaulets are no longer worn, but bretelles reaching from the waist behind over the shoulders down to the waist in front are to be quite in style for every day dresses. The sleeves for Casagates will be large and flowing. Heels on walking boots are worn lower, the uppers are higher than in the Summer. The Polish shape will be the fashion this winter again only laced at the sides instead of buttoned. The Fanchon bonnet is dead at last. The new hat, a modified sugar-loaf shape, takes its place. The material is of fine felt of various colors, the rims are bound with velvet, the trimming is one, two or more feathers. Altogether it is a stylish affair—it is decidedly aristocratic, and is called Valois.

JAPONICA.

New countries have waxes and habits peculiar to themselves. In our widely extended and sparsely settled territory, medicines ready prepared are more employed, and are in fact a greater necessity than in the old countries. Dr. Ayer's preparations have given the public greater confidence in this class of remedies than had ever been felt before. Physicians instead of discarding them, really favor the use of such ready at hand antidotes for disease, when they can be depended on. And we wish our readers to know that in publishing J. C. Ayer & Co.'s advertisement, or any others of like reliable character, we think we are furnishing them with useful information as any with which we can fill our columns.—[Louisville Courier.

The Greene County Railroad Meeting.
According to previous notice a large number of the people of Greene county assembled in the Courthouse, in Snow Hill, on Saturday, the 25th September, to discuss the importance of building a railroad through Greene county, from some point on the Wilmington and Weldon railroad.

The meeting was organized by appointing Dr. W. J. Jones President,

Colonel Joseph Dixon, Vice-President, and Theo. Edwards Secretary. Mr. Jerry Barrard, of Pitt county, was called on and responded in a very able speech, urging the importance to the people of Greene and Pitt, adopting some speedy measures by which railroad communication could be established through the counties named. Mr. Barrard was followed by Col. Dixon, Mr. Gallows, J. P. Speight and W. J. Rasbury, who pointed out to the people the importance of going forward with this movement.

On motion of Mr. Rasbury, a committee of six, viz.: Dr. John Harvey, J. Q. Jackson, Swift Gallows, S. H. Edwards, J. P. Speight and Dr. W. J. Jones, were appointed to co-operate with a committee from Pitt county, to confer with the President and Superintendent of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad and receive any propositions they may have to make to aid the people in building said road.

That this meeting adjourn to meet again at Snow Hill on Saturday, the 30th day of October, 1869, to receive the report of said committee.

That the Secretary of this meeting address letters to the Hon. R. R. Bridges, Col. S. L. Fremont and Maj. John Winder, requesting them to be present at the general meeting to be held at Snow Hill on Saturday, the 16th day of October, 1869.

THEO. EDWARDS, Sec.

An incorrigible loafer being taken to task for his laziness, replied: "I tell you, gentlemen, you are mistaken. I have not a lazy bone in my body, but the fact is, I was born tired."

Illness of Franklin Pierce.

Concord, N. H., October 2.—Ex-President Pierce is very sick. His disease has assumed a dropsical form.

A few weeks after a late marriage, the husband had some peculiar thoughts when putting on his last clean shirt, as he saw no appearance of a "washing." He then upon rose earlier than usual one morning, and kindled a fire. When putting on the kettle he made a noise on purpose to arouse his easy wife. She immediately peeped over the blankets, and then exclaimed: "My dear, what are you doing?" He deliberately responded: "I've put on my last clean shirt, and I'm going to wash one now for myself." "Very well," replied Mrs. Easy, "you had better wash one for me too."

The editor of the Springfield (Missouri) Leader has been advertising for a boy for several weeks to learn the wife filled the order for him, which shows that advertising pays. He could have had twins if he had advertised for two boys.

CAPE FEAR AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION FAIR.

CAPE FEAR AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION, WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 25, 1869.

The Executive Committee regret that the published list of members of the Awarding Committees does not contain the names of any gentlemen from Robeson county. The Committee in selecting these Awarding Committees were actuated solely by a desire to secure such competent persons as was believed would attend the Fair.—To this end reliable persons in the several counties, who had evinced an interest in the success of the Association were written to for this information. The reply from Robeson was delayed until after it was necessary to put the Premium List to press, and in this way there appears to be a neglect of that county. The members of Committees from Robeson will be duly announced when other Committees are completed.

The Committees for "Floral Hall" were, with two exceptions, added just as the List was ready for press, and they were announced without consultation. Consequently it was impossible to include names from the various counties, not even from New Hanover. These Committees will be filled and duly announced.

The Executive Committee take this opportunity to request their friends, and the friends of the good work they have undertaken, to aid them in promoting its success. Urge the people to be fully represented in every branch of production and industry at the "First Annual Fair."

S. L. FREMONT, President.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

CHOLERA. HOW TO CURE IT.

At the commencement of the diarrhoea, which always precedes an attack of the cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, (warm, if convenient), and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear. Should the diarrhoea or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes till the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The Pain Killer, as an internal remedy, has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad Sores, Burns, Scalds, and Sprains. For Sick Headache and Toothache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer.

The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Family Medicines.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence; it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTI-DOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protecto-va-ant all the epidemic and endemic maladies that have ever been administered to any country. As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable tonic and alterative would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS is more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment, we would recommend an early application. The BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

THE KIDNEYS.—THE KIDNEYS

ARE TWO in number, situated at the upper part of the back, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the anterior, the interior and the exterior.

The anterior absorbs. The interior consists of the renal pelvis, which serves as a deposit for the urine and conveys it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Muscular. The upper retracts, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the desire to do so. These are the ailments which we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, drivel or drop may ensue.

Your Column.

J. R. WATKINS, Jr., Reporter.

Goldsboro presents a business like appearance at this time. Saturday was a stirring day, and the crowded streets evinced the resumption of the busy season. We called upon several of our Commission Merchants during the day, and got from them the following figures, showing the number of bales of cotton shipped by them during the month of September:

Albert Day, 452 bales.
Finlayson & Co., 183 "
B. M. Priddy & Co., 137 "
Collier, Fulghum & Co., 59 "

These figures are large for September, while nearly every merchant in the town has shipped more or less of this staple. The flattering hopes so long indulged in by our merchants seem about to be realized. The coming winter is likely to surpass any that has preceded it for years in the extent and magnitude of commercial transactions. The elation that follows such prospects is very pardonable, in view of the long depression our people have suffered. The sunlight of prosperity looks more beautiful from the contrast of cloud that has veiled it so long. If enterprise goes hand in hand with prosperity, the future cannot be otherwise than brilliant in results, and redound not only to the enlarging and building up of the town, but to the welfare of its business connections and the happiness of its people. Emerging from darkness, the light is always beautiful.

If the physicians who are perpetually called in to minister to the thousand and one ills that flesh is heir to would, instead of dosing their patients with nauseating drugs, take a common sense view of the situation and order their patients to purchase the Monumental cooking stove, there would be a deal less trouble and sickness in the world. It is an admitted fact that indigestion produces half the diseases which trouble us, and indigestion proceeds from badly cooked food. Now, Mr. W. F. Kornegay, who has the Monumental for sale, we learn, has a reward offered for any one who will deliver at his store any individual who has ever contracted dyspepsia from eating food cooked in the Monumental. Pshaw! the thing is absurd; there are no such men.

We were pleased to see in our town, last week, Mr. J. J. Biggs, Cotton Factor and Commission Merchant, No. 51, Pratt Street, Baltimore. Mr. Biggs was formerly of the firm of Kader Biggs & Co., of Norfolk, and will no doubt carry with him an extensive trade. We have known Mr. Biggs for a great many years, and we cordially commend him to our business community, and wish him the fullest measure of success. See his card in the News to-day.

We return thanks to Hon. David Weston for valuable public documents.

PUN AHEAD.—Skiff & Gaylord, with their Minstrel troupe, will exhibit in Goldsboro, on the 15th instant. The Baltimore, Richmond and Norfolk papers speak of them as being the finest company now travelling. Our citizens may expect a rare treat.

THE SUEBICHE POST.—The first number of this paper made its appearance on Friday last. It is edited by Julius A. Bonitz, of the Messenger, and presents a very neat appearance. It is published in the German language, but being unable to read it we are not competent to judge of its contents, but presume it is all right. Terms $3 per annum.

The State Council of the Friends of Temperance will convene to-day in Odd Fellows Hall.

L. D. Wilkie, charged with complicity in an attempt to kill Mr. David Green, of Jones County, on the 15th inst., was tried before Judge Thomas, in Newbern, last Monday, and in the absence of any evidence he was discharged.

SOME CUCUMBER.—They have had a monster cucumber in San Francisco. It was five feet and two inches long and eight inches in diameter.

Sarsaparilla Fowens died in Boston on Sunday. He was seventy-six years of age, and of course had never indulged in his medicines.

John Robinson's Great Combination Circus and Menagerie is showing this week in Richmond.

STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES.—One of the most perplexing things in the world to a housekeeper is the selection of a grocer with whom to leave all their orders, and who will relieve them of all further trouble on the score of supplies. Let all those who are now in this dilemma take a look into the well filled Grocery of Mr. W. R. Barringer, on Market Street. They will find there everything, and more too, that the most fastidious fancy can desire, and find too, that their orders will be carefully and promptly attended to.

Every merchant from the country, and all buyers, should make it a point, before leaving the town, to call, examine, and price the thousands of articles kept by that extensive hardware house, W. F. Kornegay, one door south of the Exchange Hotel. They will find one of the most complete and choice assortment of goods to be seen anywhere, and cannot but be pleased with the low prices charged. Mr. Kornegay is sole agent for the Monumental Cooking Stove, which stands at the head of all other cooking stoves.

KOSKOO, the great Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier, and Renovator, prepared by Dr. J. J. Lawrence, the celebrated Physician and Chemist, is a SAFE, PLEASANT, and RELIABLE remedy, for the PREVENTION and CURE of all diseases caused by a TORPID LIVER, IMPURE BLOOD, DISORDERS of the KIDNEYS, or DEBILITY of the NERVOUS SYSTEM.

It regulates the secretions, eradicates all humors of taints, restores lost or wasted nervous power, and at the same time builds up and imparts tone and vigor to the whole system.

Oysters for Tea.—In your baking dish place a layer of oysters, then a layer of pounded cracker, butter, pepper and salt, and so on alternate layers until the dish is full; set it in the oven bake brown.

DEMOREST'S YOUNG AMERICA.—This bright little Magazine is as full of good things, and as great a favorite with the children as ever. One of the causes of its popularity is because it enters right into the children's occupations and amusements and makes itself a part of them. We recommend it to all parents who wish to procure a juvenile periodical which combines much and varied instruction with amusement and great originality.—$1.50 per annum with a premium.—Address 838 Broadway, N. Y.

METAL-TIPPED SHOES.—Shoes are an important item in the expense of clothing children, as every parent will understand. They invariably wear out their shoes at the toe first, and not infrequently before the other parts are a quarter worn. Children's shoes with Metal tips never wear out at the toe, and it is safe to say that on an average one pair with them will more than out-wear three pairs without them. We believe all the shoe dealers keep them.—[Herald.]

CONVICTION AND SENTENCE OF A NOTORIOUS HORSE THIEF.—We learn that a notorious horse thief, by the name of Henry Edmunson alias Henry Chase, formerly of Wayne county, was arrested sometime since in Columbus and upon his trial before the last Superior Court of that county, he was convicted and sentenced to ten years' confinement in the State Penitentiary.

Terrible Accident at an Agricultural Fair—Nineteen Persons Killed.—INDIANAPOLIS, October 2.—The boiler of one of two engines competing for speed at the State Fair exploded yesterday, killing nineteen persons and wounding many more. Among the killed was Mr. Jackson, of Memphis.

One of the Wisconsin papers epitomizes the democratic platform in that State: "If I have done anything I am sorry for, I am glad of it."

A FAMILY BLESSING.—Housekeepers cannot make a better investment of a small amount of money, than by purchasing one of the Doty Washing Machines. One half the labor required by any other machine which we have ever seen is sufficient for this. It is light, durable, and washes well. We have been using one in our family, and would not be without it for any consideration.

Governor Hoffman has transmitted to the Secretary of State, at Washington, his official certificate that New York has ratified the fifteenth amendment.

ELECTED CLERK.—Mr. James M. Hollowell was elected Town Clerk and Collector on Saturday last, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. George D. Green.

That valuable property, in the northern portion of the town, known as the Woodard stores, is offered for sale. A fine chance for investment in real estate.

The Wilmington Journal has just entered its nineteenth volume.

The "Walter" Grape.

DESCRIPTION.—The "Walter" is a cross between the Delaware and Diana, particularly combining the good qualities of both, and better than either. The earliest good variety known; ripens at the Hartford Proflie. A great grower and bearer; foliage and wood as hardy as the wild or native grape. Its fruit never rots, but after a time uniformly raisins, in the house or on the vine. This fact shows that it contains more sugar than any other variety, consequently will make better wine. It has borne seven years, and never failed in producing its usual crop, while the wet seasons here have destroyed most of the other varieties. The following are some of the Premiums which the "Walter" has received:

1863, American Institute—First notice and Premium as a new seedling.
1864, Newburgh Fair Horticultural Exhibition—First Premium.
1864, State Fair, Rochester—Noticed as a seedling of promise, and likely to make a superior wine.
In 1864, at 5 years old, was removed from the Delaware County, to Poughkeepsie, and bore 5 fine clusters fully ripe 20th August.
1866, American Institute—Highest Premium as a seedling not yet discontinued.
1866, State Fair at Saratoga Springs—Noticed as a seedling of high character and much promise.
1866, First Premium, quality ranking at the great Exhibition of the Lake Shore Grape Growers' Association at Cleveland.
1868, Boston—Gratuity $5.00, and was thought the most promising grape on exhibition.
1868, New York State Grape Growers' Association, Canandaigua, N. Y.—First Premium of all the 1599.
1868, Lake Shore Grape Growers' Association, Painesville, Ohio—First Premium of the 1599 variety.
First Premium for the best seedling branch.

SACCHARINE TESTS FOR WINE.—At the National Saccharine Test for wine, at Hammondsport, N. Y., Oct. 28th, 1868, the Catawba stood in sacharine matter 34—Walter 99—Four 103—Delaware 103. This test was made with 12 ounces of the Walter, somewhat frozen, to 24 ounces of each of the other varieties.

Next morning the Superintendent, Clerk, and one of the Directors of the Pleasant Valley Wine Co. the parties who conducted the test the day before, to satisfy themselves of the merits of the "Walter" by an equal trial, tested 17 ounces of clusters of fruit from the same lot that were used the day before, and the sacharometer stood at 91—the "Walter" beating it 8.
Had 17 ounces of the Delaware and Catawba been pressed equally hard with the "Walter," their sacharines would have stood lower and the Catawba proportionately below the Delaware. All the other varieties ranged much lower than those enumerated above.

There had been constant rains and damps, and water in the section where the "Walter" grew—its competitors growing at Hammondsport and along the lake, where there had been but little rain during the season—dry soil and weather being necessary for the perfect sweetening of grapes.

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COG WHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unequalled for superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and cloth.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our Machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in my laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one hundred is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catharine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair One.
Send the retail price, Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure as we will be liked, that we agree to return the money if any one wishes to return the machines free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

Mr. Congleton:—Dear Sir:—My little son was for four months suffering with pain in his legs and weakness in his knees, so he scarcely could get about and walked with great difficulty. I was in fear that he would lose the use of his legs entirely, which gave me a great deal of trouble and anxiety. I purchased a bottle of the American Rheumatic Liniment, and commenced using it, and by the time I had used half of the bottle, my son was greatly relieved and could walk very well, and after using the whole bottle, he is now perfectly well, and many thanks to you and praise for "The American Rheumatic Liniment." I am yours, &c., WM. M. GARNER.
